PROJECTS

LeanOnMe | live | github | (React/Redux, Python, Flask, SQLAlchemy, Psycopg2, Alembic)

- Designed and implemented an intuitive UI by integrating two different features: Live Search & Food Log.
- Utilized the nutritionix API to make continuous calls as the user types to provide live search results.
- The feature is included within the same area so as a user clicks on a search result, it's data is immediately inputted into the Food Log form which conveniently saves users time.

CoinFlip | live | github | (React/Redux, Javascript, Python, Flask, SQLAlchemy, Psycopg2, Alembic)

- CoinFlip is a clone of Robinhood that focuses specifically on cryptocurrencies. Users are able to buy and sell different cryptocurrencies based on the current market prices with fake funds.
- CoinFlip also has a watchlist feature that allows a user to keep track of various different cryptos as well as see how their portfolio does over time.
- Utilizes Coin Gecko's API for live news and cryptocurrency prices making 50 calls/minute. The prices are used for the transaction feature and the news is fed through to update the news feed.

Kelp | live | github | (React/Redux, Express, Sequelize, PostgreSQL)

- Kelp is a clone of Yelp that specializes in pescatarian, vegetarian, and vegan restaurants.
- Create a beautiful and simplistic rating system which conditionally renders different colored stars based on mouse position.

Two Left Thumbs | live | github | (HTML, CSS, Express, Sequelize, PostgreSQL)

- Contributed to a team to develop Two Left Thumbs; a StackOverFlow clone for gamers.
- Created a posting feature that allowed users to post gaming related questions as well as answer questions posted by others.
